

Best Practice

- SWOC analysis as a personality development tool for prospective Mental Health Professionals.
- Brainstorming and group discussion for research ideas and presentations.
- Psychological Testing, Profile Making and counselling of school and college students.
- Development of Need-Based Training Programs to solve mental health problems of different sections of community.
- Competency building Exercises for professional development of psychologists.